Introduced by Representative Till of Jericho

Referred to Committee on

Date:

Subject: Health care; medical malpractice; no-fault compensation program;

primary care physicians

Statement of purpose of bill as introduced: This bill proposes to establish a no-fault compensation program for medical injury claims brought against primary care physicians in Vermont. The program, which would replace the current litigation-based medical malpractice system with respect to primary care providers, provides for the payment of compensation to any person injured as a result of treatment provided by a primary care physician, irrespective of fault on the part of the physician. Compensation to the injured person is made from a fund capitalized by annual assessments paid by physicians practicing primary care in Vermont. Physicians who pay assessments into the fund will no longer be required to purchase medical malpractice insurance for providing primary care. The bill establishes a Medical Injury Review Board to hear and decide applications for compensation submitted by injured persons.

An act relating to establishing a no-fault compensation program for medical malpractice claims involving primary care physicians

It is hereby enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Vermont:

Sec. 1. FINDINGS

The General Assembly finds that:

(1) According to the Vermont Area Health Education Centers (AHEC) network’s 2008 snapshot of the State’s primary care workforce, Vermont has an inadequate supply of primary care physicians and advanced practice registered nurses (nurse practitioners).

(2) The AHEC network’s 2008 study shows that: Vermont’s supply of internal and family medicine physicians is experiencing a shortfall of 57 full-time equivalents (FTEs) statewide; 11 out of 14 counties are lacking sufficient family and internal medicine physicians; the supply of nurse practitioners has a shortfall of 15 FTEs statewide, including midwives; 43 percent of Vermont’s family and internal medicine practices are limited or closed to new patients; and statewide, 31 percent of all primary care physicians either are not accepting or are limiting their acceptance of new patients.

(3) The shortage of primary care physicians in Vermont is caused in part by the litigation-based medical malpractice system used in this state and throughout the country. The threat of lawsuits and the costs associated with defending against them make medical malpractice insurance prohibitively expensive for primary care physicians, forcing them either to pursue better purchasing specialties or to relocate to states where compensation is more lucrative.

(4) A no-fault compensation program, which would compensate patients who suffer injuries as a result of treatment by the patient’s primary care physician irrespective of whether the physician was at fault, would help alleviate the primary care physician shortage problem in Vermont. By replacing the current litigation-based malpractice system, the program would streamline remedies for injured patients, free medical providers to participate in health care rather than time-consuming lawsuits, and dramatically scale back the time and expense of litigation. In this way, the program would offer more timely compensation to a greater number of injured patients and more effective processes for complaint resolution and provider accountability while costing less than the litigation-based system currently in place. The lower costs would be reflected in lower medical malpractice expenses, making Vermont a more attractive state for primary care physicians, a particularly beneficial result when federal health care reform is expected to increase the demand for preventive care services.

(5) A no-fault compensation system would be more conducive to preserving the doctor’s role as the patient’s advocate, as opposed to the litigation-based system in which the doctor and the patient become adversaries.
Sec. 2. 12 V.S.A. chapter 219 is added to read:

The program shall provide for the payment of compensation from the No-Fault Medical Malpractice Insurance Special Fund established by section 7207 of this title to any person injured as a result of treatment provided by a primary care physician, irrespective of fault on the part of the physician. All physicians who provide primary care in Vermont shall pay assessments into the fund pursuant to subsection 7207(b) of this title, and the Medical Injury Review Board established by section 7203 of this title shall determine whether a person’s application for compensation from the fund shall be granted pursuant to section 7206 of this title.

§ 7203. MEDICAL INJURY REVIEW BOARD hearing and deciding applications for compensation submitted pursuant to the no-fault compensation program established by this chapter.

(2) The Board shall consist of the following five members appointed by the Governor:

(A) one primary care physician licensed to practice in this State;

applications. Members of the Board are entitled to compensation and expenses as provided under 32 V.S.A. § 1010.

(6) Documentation of any expenses paid or services incurred as a result of the injury.

(d) The Board shall provide copies of the petition to the Department, the primary care physician, the health care facility, and any other interested party named in the petition. The Board shall afford all parties a reasonable opportunity to respond to the petition.

(3) If the Board determines that a compensable injury occurred as a result of a patient’s treatment by a primary care physician and as a result of one or more other causes, the compensation award fixed by the board shall only be for the portion of the injury caused by the primary care physician’s treatment.

(d) An order of the Board dismissing a petition issued under subsection (b) of this section or an order of the Board granting a petition and awarding compensation issued under subsection (c) of this section is a final order and may be appealed to the Civil Division of the Superior Court pursuant to Rule 75 of the Vermont Rules of Civil Procedure. Review by the court shall be on the record and subject to an abuse of discretion standard.

(a) There is established a fund to be known as the No-Fault Medical Malpractice Insurance Special Fund. The Fund shall be administered by the Department of Financial Regulation. Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, no medical malpractice insurance provider operating in this state shall charge any cost for primary care medical malpractice insurance to a primary care physician who pays an annual assessment into the No-Fault Medical Malpractice Insurance Special Fund pursuant to section 7207 of this title.

(b) This section shall not be construed:

(1) to exempt a primary care physician from obtaining primary care medical malpractice insurance if the physician has failed to pay the assessment required by subsection 7207(b) of this title; or

(2) to prohibit a medical malpractice insurance provider from charging a primary care physician for medical malpractice insurance that provides coverage for care other than primary care, provided that such charges shall fairly and reasonably reflect the exclusion of primary care medical malpractice coverage.
§ 7209. RULEMAKING

The Commissioner of Financial Regulation shall adopt rules to administer the no-fault compensation program for medical injury claims established by this chapter. The rules shall address the following program matters:

(1) The rules shall contain a comprehensive list of the types of medical injuries which are compensable under this chapter.

(2) For each particular type of injury that is compensable under this chapter, the rules shall set a fixed amount of compensation. The amount shall include compensation for:

(A) Medically necessary and reasonable future medical expenses, including hospitalization, rehabilitation, therapy, nursing and attendant care, residential and custodial care and service, medications, supplies, special equipment or facilities, and related travel. Compensation may be provided for nursing and attendant care provided by a relative or legal guardian of the patient if the care is beyond the scope of duties and services normally and gratuitously provided to an uninjured family member, provided that such compensation shall not be provided for services that the patient has received or is entitled to receive under any state or federal law or under any insurance contract.

(B) Future lost wages.
(C) Any other loss or injury the Department determines should be compensated, provided that the rationale for its inclusion is set forth in the rule.

(3) The rules shall set the assessment amounts to be paid into the No-Fault Medical Malpractice Insurance Special Fund by primary care physicians and describe the processes and formulas for determining how the amounts were set.

(4) The rules shall include rules for proceedings before the Medical Injury Review Board.

(5) The rules shall describe how compensation payments shall be made from the Fund to successful petitioners.

§ 7210. EXCLUSIVE REMEDY; IMMUNITY

(a) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, the provisions of this chapter shall constitute the exclusive remedy for injuries suffered as a result of treatment by a primary care physician. No claim may be brought in court by or on behalf of a person injured as a result of treatment by a primary care physician except as provided in subsection (c) of this section.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, a primary care physician shall not be liable for injuries suffered as a result of treatment he or she provides to a patient.

(c) This chapter shall not be construed to prohibit or in any way limit an action:
(1) alleging that a primary care physician willfully caused injury to a person;

(2) against a primary care physician for injuries suffered as a result of treatment that does not constitute primary care; or

(3) against a primary care physician who has failed to pay the assessment required by subsection 7207(b) of this title.

Sec. 3. EFFECTIVE DATE

This act shall take effect on July 1, 2013.
